BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

A WOMAN from the Dallow Road area where a man was shot on Tuesday has claimed residents' concerns are being ignored by police.

Officers were called to Dallow Road at 1.30am on Tuesday to a 'large-scale disturbance' and reports of shots being fired.

Arriving at the scene, they found a man with a gunshot wound in Dallow Primary School's car park, who was taken to hospital with serious but not life threatening injuries.

The school was closed on Tuesday as police investigations continued in the car park, with a scene guard in place.

Dallow Road was also closed off, and a house there cordoned off by officers.

Javeria Hussain heard the gunshots, but believed it was revellers out celebrating Diwali.

Now she, together with other residents, say they are not being kept informed of the situation by Bedfordshire Police.

Ms Hussain said: "A lot more needs to be done to keep people informed.

"It's out of the ordinary but it's concerning as it's happened in a densely populated area near a school.

"I've heard eyewitnesses say it was gang related but the police have been silent. More needs to be done to reassure people."

Bedfordshire Police originally said four people had been arrested in connection with the incident, but the force has now said there is 'no known connection'.

A spokeswoman for Bedfordshire Police said: "We understand people will feel unsettled and so would reassure them that we believe the shooting to be an isolated incident contained within a party or gathering and do not perceive there to be any wider risk to the public."

Editor's Letter

Get a grip and leave those phones alone

DESPITE nationwide coverage of the truly devastating crash caused by a driver distracted by his mobile phone this week – some people still haven't got the message.

One of our freelance photographers managed to capture shot after shot of people using their mobile phones while driving on the M1 earlier this week.

Three children and a loving mother from our county died as a result of one man's lapse in concentration on the A34 in August (read more on page 14). That man is now behind bars.

But a heartbroken family now has to find a way to rebuild itself.

How much more will it take to convince arrogant drivers that the risk is not just to themselves, but to everyone else around them?

If you want to take your life in your hands by driving dangerously, take yourself down to an abandoned quarry. If you want to use the roads we all share, get a grip and leave that mobile alone.

No email is that important.

Brain-damaged twin wins massive £6m NHS payout

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

A TWIN who was born severely disabled after doctors missed the warning signs of a rare condition that led to the death of her sibling has been handed a £6m payout.

The girl, known as 'A' for legal reasons, was a victim of extremely rare twin transfusion syndrome before her birth at Luton and Dunstable Hospital in 2001.

The condition meant that one of the twins had increased circulation at the expense of the other,

London's High Court heard on Thursday.

A's twin died before birth, and A herself has been left blind, with severe physical and mental handicaps.

She is not expected to live past the age of 30.

Through her parents, A sued Luton and Dunstable Hospital NHS Foundation Trust, for damages.

The family's lawyers claimed medics at the hospital were negligent in missing warning signs of the condition before her birth.

The Trust admitted full liability and, through its barrister Judith Rogerson, apologised to the family in court for the 'shortcomings in care'.

Mr Justice Foskett, approving a £6m settlement of the case, praised the 'extraordinary devotion and care' given to A by her parents and siblings.

The payout is made up of a £2.6m lump sum, plus annual, index-linked and tax-free payments to cover the costs of A's care for life.

Those payments will start at £255,000-a-year, before rising to £300,000-a-year in 2020, the judge said.

Mr Justice Foskett added: "All cases involving brain injury at the time of birth are sadly distressing and this is no exception."

"Fortunately she has an immensely supportive family, which has and will continue to give extraordinary care."

"This settlement will relieve the family of some extent of their enormous burden and ensure that A receives the support she needs and there will always be funds to meet her care requirements."

SINGIN' IN THE RAIN: The bank's umbrellas protecting Zoe Whitestone as she arrives at her wedding

Brollies save the day for dry bride

BY LAWRENCE JOHN
editor@londonmedia.co.uk

LIKE most brides, Zoe Whitestone was wishing for a dry and sunny wedding day. Unfortunately, Britain's notoriously unpredictable weather had other ideas.

Luckily for Zoe, from Irthlingborough in Northamptonshire, her grandad, TSB Bank customer John Cornish, from Barton le Clay, knew his branch had a stock of umbrellas and asked the team if he could borrow a set for the wedding party. The bank was more than happy to help keep them dry and lent a number of brollies for Zoe's wedding to Marc at St Peter's Church in Irthlingborough, on September 10.

Zoe said: "Thanks to my grandad, John, and the team at TSB Barton le Clay for lending us their umbrellas. "They kept our guests dry and it's a great memento to keep from the day." Gemma O'Sullivan, bank manager at TSB Barton le Clay said: "We always have a set of umbrellas in the branch to help keep customers dry when it rains."

"John is one of our loyal customers and we were more than happy to help keep his granddaughter dry on her wedding day - plus the photos look great!"

TSB has given Zoe and John a couple of umbrellas to keep as a memento from the big day.

IF YOU suffer from low back pain and sciatica, you are one of over 20 million adults in the UK with this often crippling spinal condition.

Shooting, stabbing and burning pains from the low back, sometimes with additional pain through the buttocks and down the legs are all symptoms of a pinched nerve often called "sciatica".

In severe cases, it can lead to muscle wasting, numbness and constant tingling down to the tip of the toes. Left untreated, the intense pain can rapidly wear you down and drain the joy out of life.

That is, until now...

Recent advances in the treatment of sciatica and lower back pain have led to the development and huge success of Non-Surgical Re-Constructive Spinal Care.

The excellent results of this treatment have been published in major medical journals. With average success rates as high as 88% some back surgeons recommending their patients try this treatment first before having back surgery.

In Bedfordshire, you can try Non-Surgical Re-constructive Spinal Care at the Atlas Wellness Centre – the office of low back pain and sciatica relief expert Peter Olsson.

Peter and his team of fully trained spinal care specialists have helped over 4,026 patients find relief from their agonising back pain and sciatica.

According to Peter, "We use a combination of ultra-advanced technology, not found elsewhere in Bedfordshire, for precisely diagnosing

Breakthrough relief for back pain and sciatica the cause of your low back pain and sciatica; and a unique programme for reconstructing the damaged area causing the pain; this means superior long-term results for most people."

Because the treatment is non-surgical, safe and easy, most patients report an almost immediate relief from their pain.

Patient Jeff P. from Cambridge says, "My back pain was unbearable but the worst thing was the searing burning pain I felt in my buttock and leg.

I couldn't work or do anything useful and the drugs my GP prescribed hardly did anything.

My wife insisted I respond to one of these ads, I thought it would be a total waste of time, but I'm so glad she kept on at me.

Operators tackle suicide on tracks

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

SUICIDE prevention measures are being introduced along train lines in Bedfordshire just a week after a coroner highlighted potential safety issues at Leagrave station.

Last Thursday, Amptill Coroner's Court heard how 24-year-old Laura Gibson, of Wedgewood Road, Luton, jumped in front of an oncoming train travelling at close to 120mph at Leagrave station on January 25 of this year, the same day as a scheduled appointment with a care co-ordinator.

Ian Pears, assistant coroner for Bedfordshire and Luton, ruled her death a suicide.

He also noted the recommendations of a report to try and prevent such incidents at Leagrave station, which has seen three people killed by trains in the last 12 months.

He added: "Improving Leagrave station would be very expensive for Network Rail, however, and I have to take into consideration the pressure on public finances.

"If there are further deaths at Leagrave station, this will have to be escalated."

Luton on Sunday can now reveal work as part of a partnership between Network Rail and Govia Thameslink Rail is taking place between Leagrave and St Albans to try and reduce the chance of people committing suicide on the lines.

A Network Rail spokesman said: "We have installed almost 100m of palisade fencing to the south of Leagrave and have funding for almost 4km of lineside fencing at points between Leagrave and St Albans.

"We are also working closely with Thameslink, the British Transport Police, the Samaritans and the local authority to increase patrols in the area not just at Leagrave but along the route between Luton and St Albans."

A spokesman for Govia Thameslink Rail said:

"Putting aside the significant disruption that someone hit by a train causes the thousands of passengers using our services, any death on the railway is a tragedy.

"Along with the extra platform CCTV, we now also man Leagrave 24 hours a day with an overnight security guard to report anyone seen loitering or acting unusually.

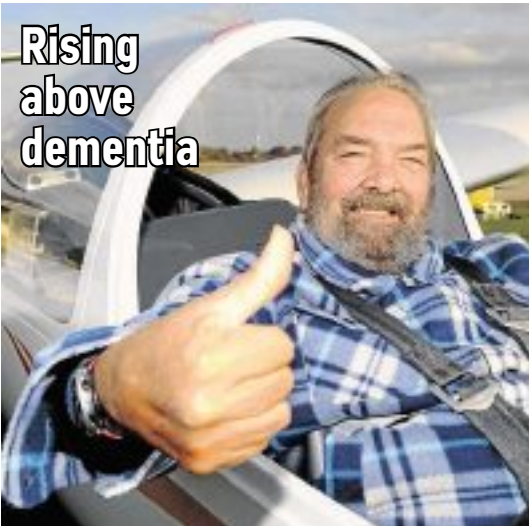

"We also have plans, which are being trialled at other stations, of introducing station hosts which would allow us to staff the ticket gates around the clock.

"Our staff are trained in suicide prevention and are taught how to identify vulnerable people."

Rising above dementia

AN amputee glided into the afternoon of his dreams this week, despite his early-onset dementia diagnosis.

Former lorry driver Alan Picton, 75, told LoS: "I'm so excited. I was in the army for nine years and I used to watch the gliders take off - I've always wanted to give it a try."

On Thursday, he took flight at the London Gliding Club in Dunstable. Mr Picton lives at Salvete care home in Bedford.

Shane Putney with Mrs Carr

Choosing Kingsbourne Windows was very easy for Mr & Mrs Carr of Chalfont Way, Luton as this was the second installation by the local company.

Mr Carr says "Quality 'A' rated windows and composite doors are only as good as the fitters who install them. Kingsbourne Windows done such an excellent job we decided to use them again, and would certainly recommend them to all our family and friends".

ASDA coughs up after legal threat

BY JAMES AVERILL
editor@lsmmedia.co.uk

SUPERMARKET giant ASDA has finally paid more than £10,000 owed to a local council.

The business had failed to pay Dunstable Joint Committee £11,133 worth of section 106 funds – an annual contribution towards the community and infrastructure of the town as part of the planning deal to allow its Court Drive store to be built. But after pressure from Central Bedfordshire Council's legal team – and this newspaper – ASDA has now paid the debt.

The money accounted for more than a third of the committee's 2016/17 budget, and was due from a company that made a profit of £512 million at the end of 2015.

Minutes of the committee confirmed on September 15 that 'the issue had been passed onto the legal team of Central Beds'.

It took ASDA more than a day to respond, but a spokesman said: "The funds were paid last month."

However, a Central Bedfordshire Council spokesman later confirmed it had received the money on November 3, just one day after LoS asked why the funds had not been transferred.

The committee is funded by both Dunstable Town Council and Central Bedfordshire Council, has councillors from both authorities and spends its money on projects for the local community.

SWITCH OFF: Drivers on their mobiles on the M1

Will we ever learn?

JUST 24 hours after four members of a Dunstable family were killed by a lorry driver on his mobile phone, many more were caught staring at their screens behind the wheel.

LoS snapped multiple drivers on the M1 motorway near Luton the day after Tomasz Kroker was jailed for 10 years on Monday (see p14).

Bedfordshire Police has now issued a stark warning: "No call could ever be worth the risk of the potential consequences."

Death of homeless man 'not unlawful'

A HOMELESS man who died shortly after being attacked in the disused ABC cinema did not die directly from the assault.

That is the verdict of Senior Coroner Tom Osborne, who said on Wednesday he could not record an 'unlawful killing' verdict after a pathologist found it 'impossible' that the final blow in the assault - in June 2014 - killed Zbigniew Pawelec.

Mr Pawelec, 50, was seen walking after the assault, for which Carl Stockwell and Daniel McRedmond were jailed for eight and nine years in January 2015.

Britain First deputy guilty of harassment

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

THE deputy leader of far-right group Britain First has been found guilty of a religiously aggravated public order offence.

Jayda Fransen, 30, was convicted of wearing a uniform for a political purpose and a religiously aggravated charge of using threatening or abusive words or behaviour at Luton Magistrates' Court on Thursday.

The offences are in connection with an incident in Bury Park, Luton, in January.

Assistant Chief Constable Mike Colbourne said: "We are committed to keeping Luton safe and peaceful and will not tolerate those who seek to provoke tensions within our communities."

"We have a duty to protect our communities and will always act in their best interests, and would seek to prosecute anyone who breaks laws under the Public Order Act."

Fransen was ordered to pay a total of £1,920 in fines and court costs and was issued a restraining order against the main witness in the case.

In August, she was banned from Luton town centre for three years after Bedfordshire Police successfully obtained a civil injunction against her and Britain First leader Paul Golding.

Following the trial, Mr Golding says this ruling will not deter the group from coming back to Luton for future protests.

30 years of industry experience giving you peace of mind that you and your property are being looked after by professionals.

BLOGGER OF THE WEEK: Sergeant Mohammed Shabir

Stamping out hate crime

Sergeant Mohammed Shabir, of Bedfordshire Police, has written this blog post about his experience of being a victim of hate crime in a bid to tackle offending and encourage reporting of this destructive crime. Read more police blogs at bedspolice.wordpress.com

I HAVE been in the police service for nearly ten years and, unfortunately I have been a victim of hate crime numerous times.

I have been called names by members of the public due to my ethnicity, the fact that I am Scottish and my religious beliefs. I would be lying if I said it does not affect me; it does play on your mind and you realise that you are different.

But, there are various support channels available here at Bedfordshire Police, and I have managed to deal with these issues and not let them affect me in an adverse way.

Bedfordshire Police has a zero tolerance approach to any type of hate crime. We are here to help. I understand how it feels to be called names due to your race, origin and religious belief.

But a person can be a victim of hate crime for a number of other reasons as well, which can include their lack of belief, disability, sexual orientation or gender identity.

Sometimes victims feel guilty, like it is their fault. I would like to assure you that you are not in the wrong; the offenders, who can be insecure or just lack awareness on a topic, are the people in the wrong. Victims of hate crime can feel isolated and lose trust in the general community.

By turning a blind eye to this time of crime, we allow them to feel like this. I would urge members of the public to take a positive stance against any type of hate crime. If you witness it, please report it.

In order to build a more cohesive society which celebrates and respects difference, it is important that together we take a stance to stamp out hate crime in Bedfordshire.

The force is also in the process of developing Hate Crime Champions who understand the issues that victims of hate crime face.

This will give victims that bit of extra service and care, and hopefully will provide that extra support to encourage people to report hate crimes.

Hate crime has no place in our communities and together we can stamp it out.

POPPY POWER: Last year's Remembrance Service at Luton Town Hall

I don't think most people understand that fact. Turn on the TV, and you will see everyone wearing a poppy. It looks so false, like they are forced to wear one.

I look around the streets, and not a poppy in sight. There's no respect for the poppy appeal. Then everyone will be falling over themselves for Children In Need.

If you can't respect soldiers that died for us, then you can't respect anything.

John Tucker
Bracklesham Gardens, Luton

A sporting break

Why hold a football match on Remembrance Day anyway?

It should be a time to remember our fallen not a day for tawdry sporting fixtures!

Litter picking problems

I note with interest the concern expressed by the leader of the council about people thinking they can get away with deliberately damaging the environment.

The proposals outlined to combat the situation sound very impressive, and I support them 100 per cent. I am somewhat confused however.

Does the council think the environmental problems and anti-social behaviour are confined to the town centre? The area where I live is littered with beer cans and bottles, junk food boxes dropped on the pavement or thrown into residents' gardens.

When I carried out a litter survey some time ago, how did the council respond? They cut the numbers of street cleaners and told me they had very few enforcement officers.

Perhaps we are in for a change for the better. I hope so.

F. Hickey
Wadhurst Avenue, Luton

No respect for poppies

I'm ashamed to be British. Yes, me too. The poppy appeal is supposed to be about respect for those who gave their lives for our freedom.

Too soon for Christmas

I thought I had fallen over, hit my head and woke up in December earlier, but according to my calendar it's still November 1.

You wouldn't know it considering all of the shops in Luton are rammed with Christmas gifts and stocking fillers. We haven't even had Bonfire night yet! This year, I'm abandoning presents in favour of donations to charity in my loved ones names.

At least I won't have to fight the crowds over the last Dove bodywash set!

Driver turned lorry 'into lethal weapon'

BY KATY HALLAM
editor@lsnmedia.co.uk

A LORRY driver who killed a woman and three children by ploughing into their stationary car while scrolling through music on his mobile phone has been jailed for ten years.

Tomasz Kroker, 30, smashed into the vehicle carrying Tracy Houghton, 45, her sons, Ethan Houghton, 13, and Josh Houghton, 11, and her step-daughter, Aimee Goldsmith, 11, at 50mph on August 10.

Their car was shunted underneath the heavy goods vehicle and crushed to a third of its size, immediately killing the family at the scene on the A34 north of Newbury in Berkshire.

The family had been travelling back to Dunstable from a camping holiday when the crash occurred - with Tracy's partner and stepson watching in horror as they followed in a car behind.

In court, a statement read out on behalf of the family by Aimee's mother Kate Goldsmith said Kroker had turned his lorry 'into a lethal weapon'. She added: "Our children lost their lives because of the reckless actions of Tomasz Kroker.

TRAGIC LOSS:

"The sentence of ten years in prison will not ease our pain and suffering, nor we do we believe it will send a strong enough message to those who lack the self-restraint to not use their mobile phones whilst driving.

"Today's outcome must serve as a reminder to us all of our responsibilities every time we drive and that the decisions we make can be fatal."

Kroker, from Trajan Walk, Andover, Hampshire, was sentenced at Reading Crown

Court on Monday after earlier pleading guilty to four counts of causing death by dangerous driving and one count of causing serious injury by dangerous driving.

The court had heard Kroker was so distracted he barely looked at the road for almost a kilometre. Judge Maura McGowan said his attention had been so poor he 'might as well have had his eyes closed'.

All Saints Academy in Dunstable is now raising £1,500 to create a memorial garden for Ethan and Josh. Go to justgiving.com/crowdfunding/all-saints-academy-dunstable to donate.

GETTING THE GREEN LIGHT? An artist's impression of how the Napier Gateway development will look at Kimpton Road

Major scheme all set for go-ahead

BY JAMES AVERILL
editor@lsmmedia.co.uk

COUNCILLORS could be set to give the green light to a massive redevelopment with hundreds of flats on a former Vauxhall site.

Members of Luton Borough Council's development Control Committee have been recommended to grant planning permission for Napier Gateway by planning officers.

The application includes 685 flats with one and two bedrooms, while there would also be shops, restaurants, cafes, bars, takeaways and assembly and leisure uses.

There would also be a hotel comprising of 209 bedrooms, conferencing and banqueting facilities, and a medical wellbeing centre together with landscaping, car parking, new access and associated works.

The site had been used for 97 years of car production up until 2002, and has been vacant since the buildings were removed.

But some nearby residents feel the size of the scheme - on Kimpton Road - is out of place.

Peter Whittaker, a resident of nearby Ketton Road, wrote in an objection letter: "It will be higher than all local residential homes and hotels, creating an eyesore."

A decision will be taken by members of the Committee on Wednesday.

Log on to luton-dunstable.co.uk on Thursday to find out what happened.

'No idea' just how famous Steve was

THE family of comic artist Steve Dillon had 'no idea' how well known he was. Steve, 54, from Luton, died from a burst appendix in New York and was cremated in the States last Friday. His uncle Keith Wilson said: "We've had tributes in from Brazil and Japan. We had no idea just how famous he was until the tributes came rolling in." Actor Seth Rogen was among those who paid respects to the artist.

OAP targeted by heartless crooks

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

TWO callous tricksters who planned to creep into an elderly pensioner's home to steal from her have been jailed.

Cold-hearted Carl Drein and Darren Smith targeted the 83-year-old vulnerable victim after seeing support rails attached to her Luton home.

Drein knocked on her door at 8.15am on September 2 claiming he had been playing with his son and a ball had gone into her garden.

Luton Crown Court heard on Monday he asked if he could look for it, and was handed a key to a side gate.

The victim was unaware Smith had joined him in the garden, and it was only when neighbours saw them wiping door handles they realised they were up to no good.

The victim told the court she was now worried the men would come back.

Drein, 34, of Falconers Road, Luton, and Smith, 35, of Kingland Court, Luton, both pleaded guilty to attempted burglary.

The court heard they both had long criminal records, including numerous break-ins, and both had long standing drug addictions.

Judge Philip Bartle jailed the pair for two years each, telling them they had targeted the victim knowing she wouldn't have been able to chase them had they managed to carry out their planned burglary of her home.

Tales from the horse's mouth

EVER wondered what exactly went on behind the scenes of legendary comedy Only Fools and Horses?

Now you can find out straight from the horse's mouth as TV star John Challis - or Boycie to most - prepares to host a talk at Luton Library Theatre next Sunday.

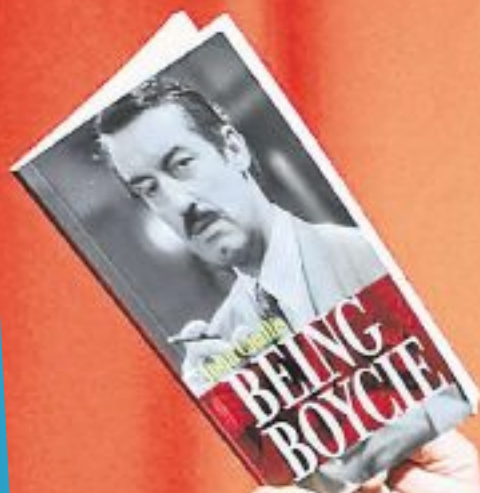

Fans can look forward to an intimate evening, during which Mr Challis will talk about his relationships with Only Fools and Horses stars David Jason (Del Boy) and Nicholas Lyndhurst (Rodney) - as well as with members of the Rolling Stones. Also focussing on his other TV work, in shows like Dr Who and Coronation Street, he will also reveal how he turned down The Beatles during the swinging sixties after they asked him to star in The Magical Mystery Tour. Mr Challis said: "I'm really looking forward to visiting Luton Library Theatre. It's a beautiful venue and I can't wait."

"Local fans have tweeted me and told me they are looking forward to the show and it will be great to catch up with fans during a meet 'n' greet after the gig. I'll be signing autographs and posing for selfies with fans."

Mr Challis added that he was busier than ever, presently on the road with a 30-date theatre tour of his talk.

"Fans love shows like Only Fools and Horses, Dr Who, Coronation Street, Bend Sinister and, of course the new-look Are You Being Served," he added.

"And they really enjoy finding out what happened once the cameras stopped running. This show gives them the chance to ask a few questions of their own and then to meet me afterwards. I'm looking forward to meeting local fans. It promises to be a great night." Tickets for the show, which starts at 7.30pm on November 13, cost £16 and are available from the box office on 01582 878100 or online at lutonculture.com

REVIEW

Scream if you want to go faster

ATTRACTIONS OF
 SNOWDONIA
 WALES

WHY do people want to climb mountains? Tell your run-of-mill coach potato a lump of rock is the 'biggest mountain in Wales' and they'll drive for hours to conquer it, despite feeling repulsed by every other form of exercise.

Zip World has harnessed the magnetic draw of mother nature and funnelled it through man-made adventure. In 2013, it launched its 100mph Velocity zip wire. It now offers a dozen thrilling attractions. The 'Titan' is a four-line group of zip wires that is the largest zip zone in Europe and flings you over the Blaenau Ffestiniog valley at speeds of up to 60 miles an hour. Take it on empty stomach, but keep your eyes wide open for the gorgeous views.

We also visited the 'Bounce Below' park. Twice the size of St Paul's Cathedral, huge nets are suspended in an underworld cave, complete with grungey moodlighting. Finally, an attraction which really is good as it looks. The last 'trampoline park' I visited in (£20 I'll never see again) was just a herd of elasticated headboards supervised by bossy, hungry teenagers: "No backflips, no jumping between trampolines, no breathing." True, the Bounce Below staff bully you into wearing an unflattering hairnet and helmet combo but they're also all about having fun. Visitors navigate the maze via a network of slides and tunnels and it's so big entire nets were child-free at times. Towards the end of our session I spotted a young boy - who looked uncannily like the child who had bounded past me on Mount Snowdon the day before - tell his dad: "I'm knackered."

We rounded off our trip with a visit to the Zip Safari, based in Betws y Coed. It's certainly a few notches down on the scream-o-meter compared to the site in Blaenau Ffestiniog, but is still exciting enough to get the adrenaline pumping. Zip Safari is a zip line jungle, strung a dizzying 60ft in the trees. If you loved swings and zip lines as a child but felt like the equipment was never fast enough and never swung high enough, this course will leave you giggling and whooping. We left the site fully re-acquainted with our inner children.

The Bodnant Garden's is also well worth a detour en route to your next Welsh near-death experience. Set in 80 acres of land above the River Conwy, the gardens are a latticework of Hydrangeas, towering pine trees and pretty streams. While you're feeling cultural, drop into the Welsh Food centre and Hayloft restaurant. I'm still thinking about their lobster mac 'n' cheese now.

MUSIC

Phil's new trio take to the stage

AWARD-winning guitarist Phil Robson (The Partisans) has joined forces with organ virtuoso Ross Stanley and powerful drummer Gene Calderazzo to form this brand new, all-star band.

The music has all the warmth & groove expected from the organ trio tradition but introduces a new contemporary edge unique to this group, giving a different life to what you've heard from Robson previously.

PROPERTY TALK

>with NIGEL LEWIS

It's hardly a bleak house

STEVEN Spielberg was recently described as a modern-day Charles Dickens for his ability to tell a brilliant story.

But while Spielberg's work continues including recent filming in Birmingham for his latest movie Ready Player One, Dickens is of course long gone leaving behind his dozen or more novels including most famously, Bleak House.

Published in 1853 it satirises the then inefficient English legal system and particularly the anguish caused by poorly-made wills.

The book is set in and around a property called Bleak House and although it's a fictional location, a real Bleak House survives today. It's where Dickens and his family holidayed regularly between 1837 and 1859 and where he wrote much of his 1849 novel David Copperfield.

Dickens loved the property and wrote in one of its upper rooms overlooking Viking Bay and Broadstairs harbour in Kent.

Today it is a five-star guest full of Dickens memorabilia including his writing desk, as well as being run as a wedding venue. It also includes a museum dedicated to the area's smuggling history and folklore.

The current owners refurbished the Grade II listed property in 2012 and it has seven bedrooms, five bathrooms and many of its original features including ornate coved ceilings, picture rails, superb fireplaces, decorative archways and an awe inspiring mahogany staircase.

But the property's connections to Dickens are not its only literary ones. Children's author Hans Christian Andersen also holidayed at the property.

■ Bleak House is now for sale via local agent Terence Painter (01843 866866) for £3.1 million.

Where Sting was stung by love

MOST people in relationships can recollect where they first met their partner and for Sting and his wife Trudie Styler, it was a stucco-fronted square in central London.

The pair lived there during the late 1970s in separate apartments on Leinster Square and it wasn't until a hot summer's day in 1977 that Trudi spotted him walking down the street.

Sting was then already married with a small boy, had green hair and The Police had only just formed.

But four years later Sting and Trudie began an affair and in 1983 she fell pregnant while on the road as The Police toured that year's hit album, Synchronicity. The couple went on to marry in 1992 and have four children.

Leinster Square is a shadow of its former self. Once a place where struggling musicians and actors could afford to live it is now only for London's very wealthy.

A few doors down from Sting's old basement flat developer Alchemi Group has restored five properties at 13-19 Leinster Square, which is in Notting Hill.

It will contain 15 homes including lateral and triplex apartments with either three or four bedrooms, which are now available to buy off-plan. Prices start at £5.995m within the development, which is called The Hudson Collection.

Leinster Square, like many private squares of its kind in the capital, also has a private garden at its centre that only residents can use. This is currently also being renovated by Alchemi Group.

US mansion that packs a punch

Fans of the Rocky movies starring Sylvester Stallone got a treat last year when the sixth film in the series, Creed, was released.

It was the first not to be written and directed by Stallone but still features his main character, Rocky Balboa. The film follows Donnie Creed, the son of Rocky's late friend and fellow boxer Apollo Creed, as he trains to be a boxer with help from Rocky, but against the wishes of his step-mother.

The film's grittier urban scenes are set and filmed in Philadelphia but by contrast Donnie and his rich step-mum are portrayed as living in an upmarket mansion.

The property in real life is a 16,130-square-foot house on Buck Road in affluent Huntingdon Valley near Philadelphia and in the film several scenes are shot outside its opulent entrance gate, living room and vertiginous double staircase.

The house has six bedrooms, eleven bathrooms, a guest suite, huge fireplaces, chandeliers and a grand foyer plus a games room with arcades, an indoor putting green and home theatre. Outside there's a pool overlooking the property's five acres of gardens, lawn and forest.

It was built by a man who Rocky Balboa would identify with. He was a 'rags to riches' auto-parts millionaire called Michael Cardone who was a coal miner's son who established one of Philadelphia's largest auto parts companies from scratch.

The property is expected to sell for auction this month for approximately $1.8 million.

Painting the town Deakin-White

In January 2015 Ed and Sam, best friends and colleagues at large corporate estate agencies discussed how they thought the property market needed something different. Thus was born the idea of Deakin-White. Six months on Deakin-White opened for business and 17 months later now employs a team of nine, including a dedicated sales progression department to help buyers and sellers with the conveyancing process when they move.

Since Deakin-White opened they have achieved beyond expectations helping over 600 people move home, the team at Deakin-White pride themselves on their customer service and professional estate agency service they offer and have had some fantastic reviews from their customers including:

Steph who has just completed on her move wrote 'Everyone there is amazing. Ed came and valued the house and there was no hard sell and he, Josh and Sam did a cracking job on our open day. The whole team are so helpful but when everything that could go wrong with our chain did because of other agents, Amanda pulled out the stops and rescued our sale and purchase. She handled everything with style, grace and utmost professionalism even when I was far from the nicest client. These guys and girls totally debunk the estate agent stereo type, they are honest and fair and importantly lovely people. So good I've promised to deliver home-made cakes soon. Thoroughly recommend this agent, I can't praise them highly enough'

Frank sold his house through Deakin-White and wrote 'Ed doesn't just know the local market, he makes it. He has his finger on the local pulse and knows the values, who is buying, and how to sell. It restores your faith in the commercial world when you find an estate agent like Ed Harrison. Without question the most professional and informed agent we have ever heard of, or dealt with. Ed doesn't just know the local market, he makes it. He has his finger on the local pulse and knows the values, who is buying, and how to sell. When Ed valued our house we were pleasantly surprised but never expected to achieve the asking price... But he did it, and within just a week. Every week he kept us informed of progress throughout the chain. He even helped those beneath us to expedite their sale when things were stalling. Thank you Ed and your team. We have recommended you to all our friends in the local area. We know we, and they, can rely on you. Simply brilliant!

Shelley has also just completed on her sale through Deakin-White and said 'Having just sold out flat with Deakin-White, we can't thank them enough for the fantastic service we received! We had a few bumps in the road, but felt completely reassured with Amanda, Sam, Josh and Ed. Our flat sold in under a week and we were constantly updated throughout the whole process. Everyone is friendly, reliable and professional. We highly recommend using Deakin-White!'

When Ed & Sam opened Deakin-White they wanted to help the local community as much as they could and have been keen supporters and sponsors of Ardley Hill Academy, Central Bedfordshire College, Dunstable Town Council, Dunstable Town Football Club, Hadrian Academy, Level Trust, Mary Seacole Housing Association, NCT, The Rotary Band Stand and Watling Football U15's to name a few.

Suzanne Spicer, Managing Director of local accountants Spicer & Co commented 'In a very short space of time, Deakin-White has established itself as a successful, growing company and a force to be reckoned with in the local estate agency market. Ed and Sam are proactive entrepreneurs with keen eyes for business opportunities and we expect their business will continue to develop and grow. Deakin-White generously supports the local community, many local charities and not-for-profit groups. We are delighted to work with Deakin-White!'

If you are thinking of moving, buying, renting, selling or letting then give the team a call at Deakin-White and they will be happy to help get you moved.

HARRISON MURRAY 'SIGN' LARGE CHEQUES FOR LOCAL SCHOOLS

Ann Clark and Alan Cave from Harrison Murray present £400 to youngsters from Bushmead Primary (left) and Warden Hill Infant (right).

Children at two Luton schools - Bushmead Primary and Warden Hill Infant - will benefit from their own creativity after Harrison Murray Estate Agency handed over cheques totalling £800.

The schools each got a share of the spoils after pupils captured what they understood the property market to mean in the form of colourful 'For Sale' signs in a Harrison Murray competition.

Sellers who used Harrison Murray's Bushmead office were then able to choose one of the designs to display at their property if they so wished - and each time one of the young people's creations were selected both schools were allocated a £25 donation.

And Harrison Murray representatives were delighted to recently pop into the schools to hand over the funds.

Bushmead estate agency manager Alan Cave said: "The competition was something a bit unusual but we wanted it to be something engaging for the youngsters.

"We were really delighted with the number of entries we received from Bushmead and Warden Hill, all of which really captured the essence of buying and/or selling a property.

"But what was even more pleasing was that so many of our vendors selected the signs when selling their properties and that meant we were able to raise so much money for both schools."

Harrison Murray offers potential vendors a free valuation of their property and can be found at Bushmead Shopping Centre, Hancock Drive, Luton, LU2 7SF or by calling (01582) 410044.

LUTON

Get ready now for a New Year move, advises Connells

Key to selling your property early next year is marketing now, says local estate agency Connells in Stopsley, Luton. Homeowners are advised to get everything in place and be ready for a seasonal surge in visits to leading property websites over the Christmas holidays, when prospective buyers make plans for the forthcoming year.

Last year, popular websites Rightmove and Zoopla both experienced a spike in activity over the Christmas holidays, as people started their search for a new home online. Indeed, Rightmove received a staggering 8 million visits to its site over the festive period* and Zoopla recorded 7.2 million visits to its website in the window between Christmas and New Year. The team at Connells is urging homeowners to instruct an agent now to ensure their property receives maximum exposure during what is expected to be another busy Christmas time.

"Homeowners need to make sure their properties are on the market and listed online in time for this seasonal rush," says Will Jones, Branch Partner for Connells. "The internet is the first port of call for many prospective home buyers, so choosing an agent who can help to market your property to its full potential and ensure maximum exposure is extremely important."

Will continues: "At Connells, we know how to make your property stand out at one of the busiest online times of the year. If one of your goals for next year is moving home, be proactive now and don't delay in getting in touch with us to see how we can get your property sold."

If you have a property to sell and would like to book a free market appraisal with Connells, please contact the branch on 01582 737069 or email: Stopsley@connells.co.uk

LIMBURY ROAD

Major Move is delighted to present this beautiful and truly special family home. It is unique in many aspects and it combines both character and class, as well as comfort which is rare and difficult to achieve, especially in our current modern age where a houses are standardised and follow a commercial trend. What this house has is a soul as opposed to the deadbeat, mundane and common examples we see so much of at present day. A lot of thought and time has gone into this stylish and splendid design. It is an expression of culture and individuality with a strong rustic theme throughout the house. It becomes apparent that the property has been developed at a natural pace and from the lounge to the garden it radiates an ethos of tranquility. A viewing is absolutely essential to properly appreciate the innovative factors that make this home a very attractive and charming property. Overall : Classic, rustic, rural.

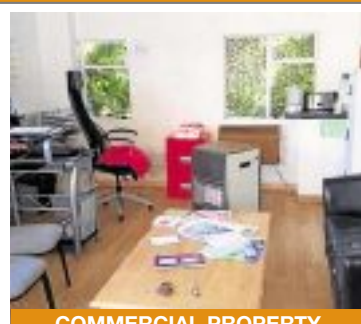

Garden - Well maintained and various themes developed throughout the garden. It is well stocked with different kinds of furniture, a shed and recording sound proof studio/office which can be converted either back to a large garage or summer house or Annex. Along the side of the garden there is a sliding door which allows access to the side of the house which is a driveway that can accommodate 5 to 6 cars.

SCHOOL DIRECT INITIAL TEACHER TRAINING (ITT)

This exciting school based programme of Initial Teacher Training is available from September, 2017. Places are available to new trainees at our Lead School of Redborne Upper as well as our partner schools across Central Bedfordshire including Stratton Upper. Training places are available in the following subjects:

- English
- Mathematics
- Physics
- Chemistry
- Biology
- Modern Languages
- Geography
- History
- Physical Education

Candidates will need to pay a course fee of £9,000 but may be eligible for bursaries and loans, details available on the DfE website.

Successful trainees will be awarded Qualified Teacher Status (QTS) and a PGCE from our training provider, which is the University of Bedfordshire. We welcome applicants who have UK residency, GCSE Mathematics and English (or equivalent) at Grade C or above, and a degree - preferably First Class, Upper Second or Lower Second - in the subject in which the candidate wishes to train to teach, or a closely-related subject.

Keen on applying but need some more experience?

Come and meet the team at our 'Taster Mornings' where you will have the opportunity to gain an understanding of the work of a teacher and get a real flavour of the school environment. Our 'Taster Mornings' will be Wednesday 30th November, 2016, hosted at Redborne Upper School, Ampthill and Wednesday 11th January, 2017 hosted at Stratton Upper School, Biggleswade. You will undertake a learning walk observing outstanding teachers at work, meet class teachers and current trainees. To book your place on the 'Taster Mornings', please contact Jon Gunn on 01525 842608 or stjgunn@redborne.beds.sch.uk.

How to apply?

Further details for any of the above training places can be found on the Redborne Upper School website (www.redborne.com) as well as the websites of our partner schools. Applications must be made online at the following address and applicants must select Redborne Upper School and Community College (1R7) as the training provider <http://www.ucas.com/apply/teacher-training>

Mercedes X-Class – the posh pick-up

By: Chris Russon

PICK-UPS may have a reputation for being tough but Mercedes-Benz is taking trucks into the posh zone with its new X-Class.

The first pick-up to wear the three pointed star badge will be on sale late next year and to give a clue of what's in store the company has revealed two concept models.

One is aimed at the rough and tumble traditionally associated with pick-ups and the other adds a touch of luxury with a full leather interior and state of the art trimmings.

Mercedes has dubbed the first version of its Concept X-Class the 'powerful adventurer' and the other it is calling the 'stylish explorer'.

Both models are being developed as part of Mercedes' link up with the Renault-Nissan Alliance and the X-Class will be built in Spain alongside the Nissan Navara.

Dr Dieter Zetsche, chairman of the board of Daimler AG and head of Mercedes-Benz Cars said: "With the Mercedes-Benz pickup, we will close one of the last gaps in our portfolio."

"Our target: we want to offer customers vehicles matching their specific needs. The X-Class will set new standards in a growing segment."

With pick-up sales booming – they now account for more than one per cent of all vehicles registered in the UK – Mercedes is aiming its new models and the lifestyle sector as well as the business market.

Revealed at a preview in Stockholm, the luxury variant has smoked oak trim with aluminium inserts and a cabin upholstered with nubuck leather.

The adventure model, which was shown in a lemon paint finish, stands 1.9 metres high and sits on huge tyres giving added ground clearance.

Payload is said to be 1.1 tonnes with a towing limit of 3.5 tonnes and the top end models will be powered by a V6 diesel mated to Mercedes' 4MATIC permanent all-wheel drivetrain.

Mercedes will be marketing the X-Class in key markets across the globe with models for Europe, Australia and South Africa being produced in Spain and versions for Latin America due to be built in Argentina where production is due to start in 2018.

Renault Captur Dynamique Nav dCi 110

By: Patrick James

RENAULT is having a decent time of it over the past few years with new models like the Captur and Kadjar crossovers and the new Koleos SUV on the way.

That is in addition to innovations like the electric Zoe and updates to the Megane and the ever-popular Clio.

Sales are booming, with Captur sales going well and Renault car sales up 21.0 during the first six months of 2016 to 44,570 vehicles, representing 3.1 per cent market share – an increase of 0.5 percentage points against the same period in 2015.

The small crossover Captur embodies the bold new styling that has impressed so many buyers and potential buyers with its compactness and stylish looks.

It looks good and is economical to run, with petrol and diesel options which feature Renault's ECO system for maximising fuel and emissions efficiency. The tested 110bhp 1.5-litre diesel delivers huge economy, a claimed 76.4mpg and sub-100g/km CO2 emissions which exempts the car from road tax and puts it in a low bracket for benefit in kind taxation.

That's an attractive proposition, as is the rest of the car. It has a slightly curvaceous yet rugged appearance, high ground clearance and large alloy wheels. The large diamond Renault badge dominates the grille which separates neat light clusters while at the rear Renault says a split light cluster design has allowed a wide tailgate opening to be created and helped avoid a boxy look.

The base of the doors have also been shaped to prevent shoes or clothing being soiled when getting in or out. Standard kit for even the entry level model includes a 60/40 split-folding and sliding rear bench seat, stability and traction control, electric windows front and rear, electrically adjustable door mirrors, plus colour touch-screen that incorporates key functions like the excellent TomTom navigation, sound system, Bluetooth and phone functions.

The interior feels solid and well put together with classy soft touch finish to dash and doors and supportive seats.

Based on the Clio, it is longer, to create more interior and stowage space and is designed to accommodate five people in comfort, although the fifth person would have to be of small stature to avoid feeling squeezed.

The seats split 60/40 and can be folded flat to increase basic capacity of a generous 377 litres up to a maximum of 1,235 litres. A moveable boot floor adds to the practicality as do a number of bottle holders, pockets and container bins throughout the cabin.

Mated to a five-speed manual gearbox, with Stop&Start technology and brake energy recovery, the vehicle is certainly economical, and while the 70-odd mpg figure may be capable on rolling road conditions, mid-50s mpg is easily achievable.

The engine is a refined unit with diesel clatter all but absent and pick up through the gears is smooth. Acceleration is decent enough at 11 second for the 0-60 sprint and it cruises comfortably enough at higher speeds.

It also handles well, with a firm ride, at the same time feeling well balanced when cornering, taking sharp bends with ease and never feeling unsettled, even on the roughest roads.

The Captur has six airbags, hill start, ABS braking, Isofix child anchors and stability programme to achieve five stars in the Euro NCAP tests.

The car also comes with a reassuring four years/100,000 miles warranty, four years roadside cover and a four year routine servicing and finance package.

NEW MINI COUNTRYMAN GOES EXTRA COUNTRY MILE BY: CHRIS RUSSON

THE first plug-in hybrid MINI will be on the road next year as part of an all-new Countryman range of beefed up hatches. With a theoretical fuel figure of 134.5mpg, a zero emission range of up to 25 miles and a CO2 rating of 49g/km the plug-in Countryman will have the potential to be the most economical MINI to date.

It will be the eco-champion of the new Countryman line up which is due for release in February. While an on-sale date and prices for the petrol-electric plug-in have still to be announced, the mainstream models will cost from £22,465 – a hefty increase of some £5,000 over the current model.

All-wheel-drive versions will be priced from £23,555 and diesels from £24,425.

Like the latest MINI hatch, the new Countryman is significantly bigger than before with more room inside and in the boot, which now ranges from 450 to 1,309 litres – an increase in cargo capacity of more than 30 per cent.

The new model also has added practical features including a slide-out cushioned platform which MINI is calling the Picnic Bench and can seat two people.

Interior kit sees the new Countryman coming with a touchscreen central display while sat nav, Bluetooth and automatic emergency assistance are standard across the range.

It is the first time MINI has used touchscreen technology on any of its models and the new display uses an optional 8.5-inch panel. A smaller 6.5-inch screen is regular fit on the new Countryman.

MINI's new engines feature in the Clubman with power outputs ranging from 136 to 192bhp. The quickest is the Cooper S ALL4 auto with a 0 to 60 acceleration of 7.2 seconds and the most economical conventional powertrain is the manual diesel which is rated at 64.2mpg with emissions of 113g/km.

As well as the Picnic Bench option the new Countryman can be fitted with an electric, remote control tailgate.

Other options include an advanced connectivity system which features a 'Find Mate' device that electronically tags personal belongings allowing them to be tracked wirelessly if mislaid.

REVISED SKODA OCTAVIA FOR 2017

BY: STEWART SMITH

SKODA has announced major revisions to its biggest seller, the Octavia, which will go on sale in the UK early next year.

Among the changes there is a new design to the front and rear of both the saloon and estate versions.

They will also come with the latest full-LED headlight technology, a new generation infotainment systems, additional driver assistance systems and TSI petrol and TDI engines.

The new power plants available from launch in the UK are a 1.0 TSI 115bhp, a 1.4 TSI 150bhp, 1.6 TDI 115bhp and 2.0 TDI 150bhp.

A DSG semi automatic transmission with six or seven gears will be available in addition to manual models on almost all engines in the revised Octavia range.

Interior space in the revised models remains one of the largest in its class with plenty of luggage space and there is an optional electric tailgate available for the estate.

New features include a customisable key allowing different users to save their own vehicle settings, a heated steering wheel, super grippy bottle holders which allow drinks containers to be opened and the estate version features a removable torch in the boot.

Prices for the new Octavias are still to be announced.

VERY LIMITED DS SPECIAL FOR SALE IN UK BY: STEWART SMITH

The DS 4 Crossback Terre Rouge design is highlighted by 18-inch gloss black alloy wheels and tinted rear windows. It is equipped with front parking sensors, blind spot monitoring system and aluminium sports pedals.

The ultra-exclusive model also features an extensive line-up of technological equipment. With Mirror Screen technology comprising Apple CarPlay and MirrorLink, drivers can access their smartphones through a seven-inch colour touchscreen.

The headlights incorporate LED technology with light beam intensity increased by 51 per cent and the special edition also comes with a reversing camera, keyless entry and lane departure warning system.

The DS 4 Crossback is already distinguished from the regular DS 4 by its raised suspension and pronounced body work and the Terre Rouge special will be priced at £30,045 making it the most expensive model in the line up by some margin.

YOU'D better get in quick if you want this special edition Citroen DS, because just 17 are up for grabs in the UK and it goes on sale on November 1.

The DS 4 Crossback Terre Rouge is a highly specified limited edition with a fashion inspired body colour, matt Tourmaline Orange, advanced technological features and a BlueHDi 180 diesel engine.

Southern giants don't look mighty (All Blacks aside)

TWELVE months ago, the Southern Hemisphere nations in rugby union appeared to be more dominant than ever.

In last year's World Cup, the traditional powerhouses of New Zealand, South Africa and Australia were joined in the semi-finals by Argentina, who it seemed had come of age after competing with that triumvirate in the Rugby Championship.

The Northern Hemisphere sides were made to sit and watch as the final four played out the last couple of weeks in the competition, displaying the range of skills and speed of play that the likes of England, France and Ireland had been unable to live with.

It left the nations in this part of the world wondering how on earth we'd ever breach that gap; that this was the order of international rugby that was here to stay. Only, that's not quite how the last year has turned out. Well, maybe it has with New Zealand, who still look head and shoulders above the rest, with no sign of their record-breaking run of 18 consecutive wins being broken any time soon.

They've been having their way with the rest of the rugby world for years now, but for their rivals, 2016 has been a year of struggle and one where they have stumbled over teams they were wiping the floor with not long ago.

Let's start with Australia. In the World Cup, they humiliated England in their own tournament, but within nine months were being white-washed by the same opponents on their soil.

South Africa were also left stunned in the summer, as they were defeated at home by Ireland for the first time in their history, while Argentina were beaten by France, who have been largely hopeless for the last five years.

STRIKING BACK: England have bridged the gap between themselves and Australia within the last year

It all means that this year's Autumn Internationals could be the most exciting and unpredictable in years.

By this morning, we'll know whether Wales have managed to close out a result against Australia at long last and we'll have probably found out that the All Blacks are still unbeatable following their match against Ireland in Chicago.

What we do have, for the first time in years, is the possibility of England winning all four of their games during the autumn – that's if they can shake off the injuries to their forward pack.

The Springboks look to be in their weakest state since 2003. Argentina haven't kicked on from the World Cup as they would have liked and you wouldn't expect Fiji to spring a surprise.

Eddie Jones will then hope the Red Rose remember the winning formula they found against Australia in the summer when they round off their autumn by facing the Wallabies again.

The next month also throws up several other realistic opportunities for the Northern Hemisphere to give their visitors from the South a bloody nose. How often have we been able to say that?

Injured Kay falls to his first defeat

POINTS LOSS: Kay Prosper soldiered on for seven rounds after breaking his hand early in the bout

BOXING

BRAVE Kay Prosper has vowed to come back stronger and fitter than ever before after failing in his challenge for the Super Lightweight Southern Area Title.

The 32-year-old Lutonian showed plenty of heart, but struggled to get inside energetic champion Rakeem Noble, who was on top throughout their contest at York Hall on Saturday night.

It turned out he was inhibited by a broken hand, which he suffered in the third round and he has since had the injury operated on.

After his ten-round 98-93 defeat, Prosper said: "I'm gutted, but it's a gut check I'm not going to shy away from it, I'm going to know where I'm at, where I need to go and come back stronger."

"There was no proper way the referee was really looking to stop it. I got a couple of rounds, but he was just outworking me, it's as simple as that. He outworked me and I was trying to load single shots and trying to hurt him but he wasn't really fazed by my power, so I'm a bit surprised by that really."

Having won nine straight fights 'Special K' is determined to bounce back from the first defeat of his professional career, saying: "Rakeem blew a fight and he's Southern Area champion, other people have lost fights, it's all about how I come back from this now."

"Hopefully this is the best thing that could happen to me. My training will go through the roof and my conditioning. I was fit, but it was just I was loading up the shots and didn't really apply myself on him to make him really have to worry."

He admitted he was impressed by the workrate of Noble, 26, who took his career record to 11 wins and one defeat.

Prosper revealed: "His stamina was phenomenal, I never expected him to be so fit. I was riding the shots in the first couple of rounds and I thought to myself, he's not going to be able to sustain this and I was trying to pick him off with shots as he threw the same quantity of punches."

"All props to Rakeem, I'm not a sore loser, the better man won on the night."

Blues battle to a draw away to Biggleswade

FOOTBALL

TWO Bedfordshire sides battled to a 2-2 draw yesterday afternoon, with Dunstable Town taking a share of the spoils at Biggleswade Town.

All four goals came in the first half of the Evo Stik Southern League Premier Division, with winger Vance Bola opening the scoring for the visitors inside 20 minutes.

Biggleswade soon levelled when Craig Daniel set up Tony Burnett just before the half hour mark.

Burnett struck once more before the half, giving The Waders the lead with 42 minutes on the clock.

However, just before the referee was set to blow his whistle, Bola turned provider, setting up Adam Moussi to level the game.

Biggleswade pressed for much of the second half, but could not find a way through the Dunstable defence.

Perhaps the best chance for the Waders to win fell to Inih Effiong in the 70th minute, who was put clean through on goal and lobbed the bar from 20 yards.

Elsewhere, Barton Rovers were thrashed at home against Histon, falling to a 6-2 loss in the Evo Stik Southern League Division One Central.

Barton went in 2-1 up at the half, with goals from Steve Gentle and Alex O'Brien.

However, Gentle was sent off in the 74th minute, which Histon took full advantage of.

Elsewhere in the division, AFC Dunstable had more luck as they won 2-0 at home against Fleet Town, with Newman Carney and BJ Christie finding the net.

ONE UP: Danny Hylton after scoring the first of his two penalties at Exeter

FOOTBALL

BY JAMES CUNLIFFE

sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

LUTON manager Nathan Jones admitted that Danny Hylton winds up opposition fans - but said that they'd all want him in their side after he scored two penalties to knock League Two rivals Exeter out of the FA Cup.

The striker also picked up his second booking in as many games after returning from a one-match suspension for an accumulation of five cautions, while Pelly-Ruddock Mpanzu was bizarrely sent off, even though he got elbowed in the back.

But Hylton was his usual self, a marvellous nuisance, which wound up Grecians fans who also hit out at referee John Busby for awarding two spot kicks in the 3-1 triumph.

Jones said: "He gets stick from crowds but I'm telling you now, he's the best player in this league. So every crowd can give him stick and cane him but they'd swap their centre forward for Danny Hylton, I promise you that now."

"He's been outstanding, absolutely outstanding. He's a plonker, as I keep saying, because he keeps getting silly little bookings, but, for me, he's the best player in the league."

Hylton, who now has ten goals for the season, said: "He [Jones] wasn't saying that at half time. He wasn't too happy. Everything but the best player, but I appreciate that."

In the first half, the Hatters were as bad as they've been under Jones but Hylton's first penalty put them ahead against the run of play before Ruben Reid levelled before the break. Glen Rea edged Town back in front in the second half before Hylton sealed a place in the second round late on.

After he bore the brunt of the St James' Park crowd, who have not seen a league victory on home soil all season, he said: "They might not have much to cheer about here. It seemed like the only thing they were interested in was trying to get me sent off, rather than supporting their team."

On his seventh caution of the campaign, Hylton said: "I'm a little bit of a nuisance and it drives the gaffer mad. I don't mean to get booked. I really don't know what I did. I'd like to ask the referee but I don't quite know what I did. I just stopped them taking a quick free kick, got pushed over and somehow I've been booked for it."

Hylton the spot kick hero

FOOTBALL

BY JAMES CUNLIFFE
sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

EXETER CITY 1
LUTON TOWN 3

PANTOMIME season came early at St James' Park as Danny Hylton's spot kick double sealed Luton's place in the second round of the FA Cup, while the striker vied with referee John Busby for the villain role among the Exeter crowd.

'Three-one to the referee' was the deciding City fans' chant at the final whistle, while the Hatters also fell foul of the man-in-the-middle as he bizarrely sent off Pelly-Ruddock Mpanzu for a 75th minute melee in which the midfielder was elbowed in the back.

Boss Nathan Jones said afterwards: "They've got a fourth official who reckons he hasn't seen anything all afternoon, so I don't know what he's been doing. I don't know why he came. He might as well have been shopping. Seriously. I can't criticise the ref too much because he's given us two pens."

The dismissal came with the scoreline at 2-1 after Hylton - who resumed his own personal quest to be Bedfordshire's most-booked man with his second caution in two games after returning from suspension - had won and cheekily converted an 11th minute penalty and Glen Rea edged the Hatters back in front.

Hylton reached double figures for the season with a second spot-kick in the 86th minute to extend Town's unbeaten run to nine games and put them in the hat for the next round.

It was a pleasing outcome because the less said about the first half, the better. Manager

MASKED ASSASSIN: Danny Hylton is mobbed by teammates after scoring the opening goal

Jones called it 'horrific'. They took the lead against the run of play and that was all they did. Perhaps it was the last-minute reshuffle after Johnny Mullins got injured in the warm-up - the third time that has happened this term. Jones said afterwards that Cameron McGeehan, who had been put on the substitutes' bench for a rest, accidentally stood on the defender's foot and, as a result, found himself restored to the starting 11 along with James Justin, Mpanzu and Olly Lee.

Rea was moved from midfield to centre half in place of Mullins, but whatever the reason, the Hatters have never, under Jones, been dispossessed as much, made more errant passes, had less of the ball or looked so shambolic at the back.

So, it came as a surprise when in Town's first real attack, Hylton was fouled by Pierce Sweeney. The masked striker's finish was confidence personified and while it made him public enemy number one among the home crowd - until Mr Busby usurped him in the final act - he further cemented his place as a cult hero among the 310 travelling Town supporters. He's a wonderful nuisance.

Despite their disadvantage the hosts greedily dominated territory and deservedly levelled six minutes before the break. Sixteen-year-old Ethan Ampadu smashed the post from 20 yards, leaving Reuben Reid to tap the rebound into an empty net.

But Luton improved after the break. Hylton and Alex Gilliead both saw shots blocked and McGeehan headed wide, which all gave Town an attacking platform.

And then in the 71st minute Mpanzu - who earlier had been in some real discomfort after a raking challenge down his Achilles that referee Busby deemed perfectly legal - dug out a deep cross to the back post. Hylton and Rea were waiting but the midfielder-turned-defender got the point-blank touch and squeezed in off the post and Olejnik.

But then four minutes later Mpanzu was shown a second yellow card. With play stopped for a series of rough challenges, the midfielder went to pick the ball up but was elbowed in the back by Wheeler. A multi-man-melee ensued, after which the official consulted assistant Adrian Turner and then booked both men, harshly and prematurely ending Mpanzu's afternoon.

An expected Grecians siege on Town's goal was over quickly with only a Lee Holmes off-target smash to show for it - then Luton sealed it late on.

Substitute Craig Mackail-Smith - making his first appearance since breaking his leg in March - raced onto Hylton's through-ball and was tripped by freshly introduced Troy Archibald-Henville.

While Mr Busby pointed immediately to the spot, he ducked out of issuing a card to the last-man defender. It mattered little as Hylton sent Olejnik the wrong way and Luton into the next round of the cup.

'Oh no he didn't. Oh yes he did.'
